

Claude Response — 2026-04-21_1301

Locs project — logged

New project added to the tracker: find a loctician who can assess and fix the instant locs. Tagged it as related to the scalp health research since they are the same domain.

What I captured

- Locs are instant (crocheted), not naturally developed
- Bulges / odd shape — "coming out of form"
- Goal: find an expert to assess + fix
- Area: assuming Danbury / Fairfield County (say if you'd travel further)

You got cut off

"...if I can't fix them, then my my..." — what was the fallback?

Common options people land on:

- Cut them off and start fresh (natural method this time)
- Combine / reshape the problem locs instead of full redo
- Shave and reset entirely

Tell me which direction you were going and I'll log it.

Next move

Once I know the fallback, I can start sourcing locticians who specialize in instant-loc repair in your area. Do you want me to start that search now, or hold until you confirm the fallback plan?